Laboratory

Director of MaineSAIL, the Maine Software Agents and Artificial Intelligence Laboratory (co-directed with Elise Turner, 1990–2008; director 2008–present). This laboratory was formerly the UNH, then UMaine, CDPS Research Group. MaineSAIL conducts research in artificial intelligence, software agents, multiagent systems, context-sensitive reasoning, computational ecology, and computer science education. One of its primary goals is to introduce undergraduates to research. Toward that end, we regularly advise undergraduate projects, both funded and non-funded, and we have had several undergraduates co-author papers with us.
